

XHILJOLA ABDIHOJHA

MSC

CAREER OVERVIEW

MSC. Xhiljola Abdihojha is an Assistant lecturer and Coordinator of Department of Tourism, Hospitality and Recreation

FIELDS OF EXPERTISE

- Teaching; Language and Grammar, English translation/interpretation, Academic Writing

EMAIL

xh.abdihojha@umb.edu.al

BIO

Msc. Xhiljola Abdihojha has quite a long experience as an Assistant Lecturer in the Faculty of Natural Sciences, Agricultural University of Tirana, and University of Elbasan etc. She has been teaching “Academic Writing” and “English” and she has been dealing mostly with the preparation of students for international English tests. During these years, she has also worked as a translator-interpreter for different organizations, by so enlarging and developing a deep background and understanding of the language.

She is currently Assistant Lecturer of English language and coordinator of the Department of Tourism in Barleti University. She graduated from University of Tirana, Faculty of Foreign Languages, in 2008-2011; bachelor degree in “British and American Studies”. Soon after, she successfully pursued a scientific master degree in “Intercultural and Touristic Language and Communication”, (2011-2013).

Immediately after university, she was employed as an English Language Ass Lecturer and at the same time, she was engaged in English language courses mainly for adults.

Msc. Xhiljola Abdihojha participated in different trainings related to methods of English teaching, national and international conferences and she has published several articles in scientific journals.